ABSTRACT

This revised annotated bibliography about geography concentrates on reference materials located in the McLennan Library of McGill University (Montreal, Quebec), and it emphasizes human rather than physical geography. The resources are presented in nine areas: (1) guides to the literature; (2) dictionaries; (3) gazeteers and place names; (4) encyclopedias and handbooks; (5) directories; (6) biography; (7) bibliographies; (8) periodical lists; and (9) maps and atlases. Computer databases are mentioned, along with their printed versions. McLennan Library's call numbers are included. (DJC)

Geography: A Guide to Reference Sources

Geography deals with human societies in their spatial and ecological setting. It is a complex subject with features of both the social and natural sciences and the subject is scattered across the Library of Congress classification scheme.

This revised guide concentrates on reference sources found in McLennan Library. It emphasizes human rather than physical geography. No attempt has been made to explore geography's various sub-fields, except in the area of maps and atlases. Many of these are, however, discussed in the titles included in this guide. Other relevant bibliographic guides prepared by the Reference Department which may be useful to research in geography are:

African Studies
Anthropology
Arctic and Antarctic
Atlases
Carribean Studies
Economics
Political Science
Psychology
Sociology
Theses
Urban Affairs
Women's Studies

ONLINE BIBLIOGRAPHIC SEARCHING

Computer searchable data bases of interest to geographers include: Georef: all aspects of geology, geochemistry, geophysics, mineralogy, paleontology, petrology and seismology; Leisure, Recreation and Tourism Abstracts: availalbe online as part of CAB Abstracts; Geobase: all periodical references from Geographical Abstracts: Parts A-G, International Development Abstracts, Geological Abstracts Series, Mineralogical Abstracts and Ecological Abstracts. All these databases are noted in this guide when their published equivalent is cited. Enquiries about additional databases and online searching can be made at the Reference Desk, McLennan Library.

Other Resources at McGill

Government reports and statistical compilations are indispensable for geographical research. The Government Documents Department on the second floor of McLennan Library has a wealth of statistical data and is a depository for all Canadian federal publications and for those of the United Nations, UNESCO and some other U.N. agencies. It also contains a selection of Canadian provincial and municipal publications, as well as many United States, United Kingdom, Common Market and Indian government documents. As this material does not normally appear in the McGill Library catalogues, readers are advised to go directly to the Department where staff will provide assistance in using their catalogues, indexes and bibliographies.

Blackader Lauterman Library contains valuable resources for urban planning. Of particular interest to geographers are the Exchange Bibliographies (TD160 .C6x Blackader) of the Council of Planning Librarians, devoted mainly to planning but also including many bibliographies on urban transportation, urban geography, regional development, environmental problems, perception of the environment, resource management, pollution, recreation, statistical and other methodologies and remote sensing.

Physical Sciences and Engineering Library collects physical geography and transportation; Howard Ross Management Library collects economic geography and the management of tourism; the Medical Library collects medical geography; MacDonald College Library collects agriculture, soils information and studies of the environment; and Blacker Wood and Botany Genetics Libraries, collect environmental information.

MAPS AND ATLASES

General world U.S. national and Canadian national, regional and provincial atlases are kept in Reference. Other national and thematic atlases are kept in the McLennan stacks. The Map and Air Photo Library, located on the fifth floor of Burnside Hall, has a comprehensive collection of Canadian atlases and a strong collection of national atlases. It also houses a comprehensive collection of thematic and topographic maps of the world and its various countries. An historical collection of antique maps and atlases is housed in the Department of Rare Books and Special Collections. Consult the map librarians in Rare Books and in the Map and Air Photo Library for assistance in using the catalogues and indexes to their collections. City plans are found in both map collections. A good collection of Canadian city plans is available in the School of Urban Planning's library, Room 411, Macdonald Harrington Building. Consult a reference librarian for details of and access to this collection.

Not all locations have been indicated for items cited in this bibliography. For additional locations, consult the McGill Library catalogues.

Reference librarians will be pleased to provide any assistance you may need in using this guide or the materials listed in it or in locating further information.

This bibliography was revised by Carol Marley, Reference Department, McLennan Library.

I. GUIDES TO THE LITERATURE

Brewer, James Gordon. The Literature of Geography: a Guide to Its Organization and Use. 2d ed. London, Clive Bingley, 1978.

Ref, UL Z6001 B74 1978

An introductory guide identifying the most useful and authoritative sources in geography. Reference works (including comprehensive monographs, text books and handbooks and bibliographic sources) are featured to provide the basis for tracing more detailed and advanced literature. Emphasis is on English language and recently published material.

Harris, Chauncy Dennison. Bibliography of Geography, Part II: Regional Volume 1. The United States of America. Chicago, Illinois, Dept. of Geography, University of Chicago, 1984.

Ref H31 C514 no. 206

Primarily a bibliography of bibliographies, this volume is divided into four parts: general aids, physical geography and earth science and related fields, human geography and related social sciences, and the regions, states and cities of the U.S. Detailed index of subjects, authors and short titles.

_____. Guide to Geographical Bibliographies and Reference Works in Russian or on the Soviet Union: Annotated List of 2660 Bibliographies or Reference Aids. Chicago, University of Chicago, Department of Geography, 1975.

Ref H31 C514 no. 164

A relatively comprehensive inventory of bibliographies published in the Soviet Union on all fields of geography as well as "hidden bibliographies" i.e. bibliographies in major monographs with at least 100 references. Arranged by subject, it includes a selection of important reference materials in Russian or other languages of the Soviet Union. Covers primarily material published from 1946-1973; earlier works have been listed selectively. Detailed index.

Lock, Clara Beatrice Muriel. Geography and Cartography, a Reference Handbook. 3d ed. London, Bingley, 1976.

Ref, Map G63 L6 1976

See Section V.

Webb, William, ed. Sources of Information in the Social Sciences. 3d ed. Chicago, Ill. American Library Association, 1986.

Ref, LibInfSt Z7161 S666 1986

Chauncy Harris was responsible for Chapter 3, Geography, an invaluable survey of the field which lists guides to the literature, reference works, periodicals and substantive works from the various subdisciplines.

Wright, John Kirtland and Elizabeth T. Platt. Aids to Geographical Research: Bibliographies, Periodicals, Atlases, Gazetteers, and Other Reference Books. 2d ed. Comp. rev. New York, Published for the American Geographical Society by Columbia University Press, 1947.

Ref, LibInSt Z6001 A1W9

Harris, Chauncy Dennison. Bibliography of Geography. Part I. Introduction to General Aids. Chicago, Illinois, Department of Geography, University of Chicago, 1976.

Ref H31 C514 no. 179 pt. 1

Still the most fundamental and comprehensive guide to geographical literature in many languages. The annotations are both descriptive and evaluative. The detailed index provides author, subject and title approach. Updated by Bibliography of Geography. Another useful, short guide is Tom L. Martinson's Introduction to Library Research in Geography: An Instruction Manual and Short Bibliography (Z6001 M36 1972 Ref).

II. DICTIONARIES

A. Bibliographies

International Geographical Union. Commission on International and Geographical Terminology. Bibliography of Mono- and Multilingual Dictionaries and Glossaries of Technical Terms Used in Geography As Well As in Related Natural and Social Sciences. Compiled by Emil Meynen. Wiesbaden, Franz Steiner, 1974.

Map Z6004 D5M48 1974

Lists 3,211 dictionaries by fields of geography and related disciplines. 49 monolingual and 38 bilingual or multilingual general geography dictionaries are included. Most entries are for specialized dictionaries in related fields.

II. B. English Language

British Association for the Advancement of Science. Research Committee. A Glossary of Geographical Terms. 2d ed. London, Longmans, 1966.

Ref G108 A2B7 1966

Prepared by a Committee of the British Association for the Advancement of Science and edited by Sir Dudley Stamp, this major etymological dictionary of geography consists of terms in physical, human, social and economic geography. Emphasizes those terms used in English language geographical literature but some foreign terms included. Various definitions are often given for one term including the citation of its first use and comparison of definition by various authorities with references to further discussion. Includes a list of standard works to which references are made. Appendicies: - Greek and Latin roots commonly used in construction of terms. -List of words in foreign languages which have been absorbed into English literature. -Some stratigraphical terms.

The Dictionary of Human Geography. 2d ed. Oxford, Basil Blackwell, New York, Free Press, 1986.

Ref GF4 D52 1986

An excellent reference work for human geography, balancing the emphasis on terms in physical geography in the glossary cited above. Entries frequently are signed; they often include selected readings. Short list of abbreviations of periodicals, organizations and geographical terminology.

Lana, Gabriella and Lliana Iasbez and Lidia Meak. Glossary of Geographical Names in Six Languages...Amsterdam, Elsevier, 1967.

Ref G104.5 I.3

See Section III, B.

Small, John and Michael Witherick. A Modern Dictionary of Geography. London, Arnold, 1986.

Ref G63 S53 1986

Primarily for undergraduates, the dictionary provides a relatively even balance between physical and human definitions.

Whittow, John B. The Penguin Dictionary of Physical Geography. New York, Penguin, 1984.

UL GB10 W5 1984

Brief definitions and descriptions of a large number of terms. Comprehensive and up-to-date.

Webster's New Geographical Dictionary. Springfield, Mass., Merriam Webster, 1984.

Map, On order for Ref G103.5 W42 1984

See Section III. B.

II. C. Translation and Other Languages

Fischer, Eric and Francis C. Elliot. A German and English Glossary of Geographical Terms. New York, American Geographical Society, 1950.

McL. G5 F52

German-English and English-German. Strong on terms in physical and mathematical geography including geomorphology, it omits specialized terms in related sciences. Entries also for peoples and races. Source books mentioned in Preface.

Kalesnik, Stanislav Vikent'evich. Entsiklopedicheskii slovar' geograficheskikh terminov. Moscow, Sovetskaia Entsiklopediia, 1968.

McL. G108 A2E6x

All-around dictionary of geographical terms in Russian. About 4,200 terms are defined by specialists in various fields. Especially strong for physical geography.

Westermann Lexikon der Geographie. Braunschweig, G. Westermann, 1968-72. 5v.

Ref G107 W47

See Section IV.

II. D. Polyglot

International Geographical Terminology. Wiesbaden, Franz Steiner, 1985.

On order for Ref.

Sponsored by the International Geographical Union, the dictionary includes approximately 2,400 specialized key terms in geography in alphabetical order with definitions in German and equivalent terms in English, French, Italian, Spanish, Russian and Japanese. About 11,000 subterms. Terms also grouped by fields for English, German and French.

Quencez, G. Vocabularium geographicum: Francais, Deutsch, Italiano, Nederlands, English, Espanol. Bruxelles, Presses academiques europeennes, 1968.

Ref G108 A2Q4

Arranged by subject, in six columns, corresponding terms in each of the six languages can be seen at a glance. The choice of terms resulted from an analysis of secondary school textbooks in the various countries, and includes only a few proper names. Separate alphabetical indexes for each language.

III. GAZETTEERS AND PLACE NAMES

A. Bibliographies

Canada. Dept. of Mines and Technical Surveys, Geographical Branch. Selected Bibliography on Canadian Toponymy. Ottawa, Queen's Printer, 1964.

Ref Z1382 G152x no. 30

Still the standard listing of books and articles on the history and origin of Canadian place names. Arranged regionally, it includes a section on the problems and procedures of standardization of geographical nomenclature.

Meynen, Emil. Gazetteers and Glossaries of Geographical Names of the Member Countries of the United Nations and the Agencies in Relationship with the United Nations:

Bibliography 1946-1976. Wiesbaden, Franz Steiner Verlag, 1984.

On order for Ref

Comprehensive bibliography of gazetteers published between 1946 and 1976 arranged alphabetically by country.

Sealock, Richard B. and Margaret M. Sealock and Margaret S. Powell. Bibliographhy of Place-name Literature: United States and Canada. 3d ed. Chicago, American Library Association, 1982.

Ref Z6824 S4 1982

Comprehensive bibliography of place-name literature including gazetteers of the United States and Canada.

III. B. Universal

Columbia Lippincott Gazetteer of the World. Morningside Heights, Columbia University Press, 1962.

Ref, Atlas stands, Map, R.B.D. G103 L7 1962

The most comprehensive single-volume world gazetteer. In one alphabetical sequence, 130,000 political entities and geographic features are named, with pronunciation and variant spellings; located, with co-ordinates or distance to nearest large center; and described, with brief historical, political and economic details. The supplement (at end of gazetteer) includes the major politico-geographical changes since 1952, new nations and some 1960 census figures. Fairly balanced world treatment, although U.S. oriented. For post-1962 information, albeit less comprehensive, consult The International Geographic Encyclopedia and Atlas.

Geograficheskii entsiklopedicheskii slovar': geograficheskie nazvaniia Geographical Encyclopedic Dictionary: Geographical Names. A.F. Treshnikov, ed. Moskva: Sovetskaia Entsiklopediia, 1983.

On order for Ref

World-wide gazetteer but of special value in providing the most up-to-date information on places in the Soviet Union in alphabetical order.

Kurian, George Thomas. Geo-Data. The World Almanac Gazetteer. Detroit: Gale Research Co., 1983.

Map G103.5 K87 1983

A useful compendium of geographical information, the gazetteer is divided into four parts, with a geographic name index. Part I provides information on the cities, towns, counties and states of the United States, including population, elevation, names of newspapers published in that area, rank in U.S. by income, percentage of foreign population, etc. Part II presents a variety of geographical, demographic and political information about foreign countries. Part III presents geographic information about continents, oceans, mountains, etc. Section IV ranks cities, mountains, oceans according to size, height, temperature.

Lana, Gabriella and Liliana Iasbez and Lidia Meak. Glossary of Geographical Names in Six Languages: English, French, Italian, Spanish, German, and Dutch. Amsterdam, Elsevier, 1967.

Ref G104.5 L3

With English as the base, variations (if any) of geographical proper names in the five other languages are given. The index is consolidated A-Z.

Room, Adrian. Place-Name Changes since 1900; a World Gazetteer. Metuchen, N.J., Scarecrow Press, 1979.

Ref, Atlas stands G103.5 R66

This gazetteer records many name changes since 1900 within particular countries. In countries such as China and the Soviet Union where there were many name changes within this century, only a small number are represented here, although entries for these countries predominate. Place names are arranged alphabetically. An entry normally includes present name, identification, location, former name and year of renaming. Appendices include a list of official names of countries and administrative divisions of the Soviet Union.

The Statesman's Year-book World Gazetteer. London, MacMillan Press, 1975-

McL, Map G103.5 S8 Map has: ed. 1-2, 1975-1979.
McL has: ed. 1, 1975

Designed to supplement The Statesman's Yearbook (AY 754.W5 Ref desk), the gazetteer describes places of importance or size. Each entry attempts to give information on location, recent history, industries and population. Essential details about the countries of the world are included. For detailed descriptions consult the annual volumes of The Statesman's Yearbook.

The Times, London. Index-Gazetteer of the World. London, Times Publishing Co., 1965.

Ref (Index Stands), Map, R.B.D. G103 T5

345,000 geographical locations are listed with co-ordinates, 198,000 of which have map references to the Mid-Century edition of the Times Atlas of the World (Ref, Index stands). Introductory pages include geographical equivalents in 50 languages.

U.S. Board on Geographic Names. Gazetteers. Washington, D.C.

Map, McL

A numbered series, by country, of world gazetteers. Places and geographic features, listed by their approved names, are identified and located. Source of names are also provided. Includes many cross references. Frequently revised. Map Lib. has a fairly full run dating from 1976. Earlier gazetteers in the series can be found in the card catalogue at the series entry, U.S. Geographic Names, Board on. Gazetteers. Each has its own call number & is located in McL.

Webster's New Geographical Dictionary Springfield, Mass., Merriam Webster, 1984.

Map, on order for Ref G103.5 W42 1984

A pronouncing dictionary of over 47,000 names, both current and historical, giving brief descriptive information for each. Strong on U.S. place names. Maps are included. Introduction mentions geographical terms and their equivalents in various languages. Population figures and the years of the last census are indicated.

III. C. North American

Harder, Kelsie B. Illustrated Dictionary of Place Names, United States and Canada. New York, Van Nostrand Reinhold, 1976.

Ref E155 H37

Over 15,000 names are included giving location and origin of name. Names of all provinces, states and their capitals and counties are listed. Major features such as bays, harbors, etc. have been selected on the basis of historical importance, linguistic interest or location.

Stewart, George Rippley. American Place-Names: A Concise and Selective Dictionary for the Continental United States of America. New York, Oxford University Press, 1970.

Ref E155 S79

The culminating work of a lifelong study of American toponymy. 12,000 entries provide information on origins, names and general significance of the entries.

III. D. Canadian

Gazetteer of Canada. Ottawa, Board on Geographical Names.

Ref FC35 G3 etc.

Originally established as a serial in 1952, now all gazetteers are catalogued as monographs at the title, Gazetteer of Canada. (Province). The most recent available are:

Alberta. 1974
British Columbia. 1985
Manitoba. 1981
New Brunswick. 1972
Newfoundland and Labrador. 1983
Northwest Territories. 1981 (microfiche)

Map Collections in the United States and Canada; A Directory. 4th ed. New York, Special Libraries Association, 1985.

Map, R.B.D. GA193 U5M36 1985

Approximately 800 map collections are listed alphabetically by state and province, then by city. Entries include contact person, address, size of staff and collection, annual accessions, area specialization, chronological spread of the collection, special collections, publications, facilities and interlibrary loan. The index includes name, geographic and subject entries.

World Directory of Map Collections. 2 ed. Munich, New York, London, K.G. Sauer, 1986.

Map, R.B.D. GA192 W67 1986

Compiled by the Geography and Map Libraries Sub-section of the International Federation of Library Associations, the directory is international in scope. A collection must exceed 1,000 items (except for entries recording the only map collection in a country) to be included. Arranged alphabetically by country, then by state and/or city, it is indexed by names of parent institutions and persons in charge. A typical entry includes name and title of person in charge, telephone number, cable address, telex number, date and brief history of founding, information on staffing, size and nature of the collection, reference services, facilities, storage equipment, conservation procedures, publications.

Watt, Ian The Directory of U.K. Map Collections. 2d ed. London, British Cartographic Society, 1985.

Map, R.B.D. GA193 G7W37 1985

Arranged alphabetically by parent organization, the directory includes such information as person responsible, address, telephone number, hours, restrictions upon use, facilities, brief description of the collection including relevant publications, special collections and subject strengths. Indexed alphabetically, geographically and by subject.
